

Mini chef for a day

At Grumello Castle (Bergamo), the adventure takes place around the ovens.

After having armed themselves with flour, eggs, sugar, and yeast, Mom and Dad will be the final judges of the work of their children.

Kids in the Kitchen, a special course for little cooks. Since we are speaking of a regal table, no detail will be neglected: the preparations for a true king's feast begin with the decorations.

Divided into small groups, the children will learn to embellish the

In the meantime, parents reassured by guarantees that the quick cooking course for their children takes place in total security, may take a stroll among the vineyards on the property taking in a guided visit to the medieval manor followed by a wine tasting.
